FOREWORD

A toy is a model of the grown up world scaled to the size of a child and needing a child's creativity to make it an object of play. A Maxwell Mini Auto Toy is not only toy—it has been given by the manufacturers and designers the creativity required by the childhood imagination. These precision die cast scale models have appealing aim of playability and their expressions are creative and individual. Partly because of their bright colour and partly because of their minute details look so real that they can be called authentic works of art. Maxwell Mini Auto Toys have found the ways to private collections. Manufacturers wish a bright and prosperous life for children for all times to come.
